

The easy, secure and affordable way to conference.

Put an end to outsourced conferencing fees with IVCi Audio Conferencing Solutions, the smartest way to conduct conferences via telephone with a disbursed group of employees, customers or partners.

IVCi audio conferencing customers benefit from:

Reduced costs

Compared to conferencing bridges from outside service providers, our audio conferencing solution eliminates costly per-minute per person audio port surcharges and monthly subscription fees.

Ease of use

Full integration with MS Outlook® or Lotus Notes® provides users a single entry point for scheduling users and related conference call details. All relevant information is generated automatically and sent to conference participants.

Security

Audio conference access is protected through the use of conference IDs, unique participant PINs and passwords. The host can hear a roll call of participants on the call at any time and can lock conferences to prevent additional participants from joining.

Flexibility and Scalability

Our solution gives you control and management of the conference either via the telephone, your PC or a combination of both. In addition, our solution is scalable to allow hundreds of participants and conferences.

IVCi provides customers with unparalleled flexibility with the option of selecting their audio conference solution as a Managed Hosted service or as a Managed On Premise service.

With IVCi's Managed Hosted Service, your company purchases or leases the audio conferencing solution from IVCi and the product is then hosted in our world-class, secure hosting center. This service is designed for customers who expect to have higher usage and do not wish to pay usage fees, except for the fixed monthly cost of managing their equipment and core telecom or network services.

IVCi's Managed Hosted Services requires no technical staff, provides excellent cost control and a secure and reliable way to ensure that your meetings are optimal, each and every time.

With IVCi's Managed on Premise Service your company purchases, or leases, the audio conferencing solution from IVCi to be fully installed in your own network. This is designed for customers who, due to legal, financial or security requirements, must have their own equipment on premise.

With this plan, IVCi builds your customized audio conferencing solution and integrates it into your existing network for either IVCi, or your staff, to manage. The Managed on Premise plan is ideal for organizations with powerful PSTN or IP networks and technical teams that know its capabilities.

With Sonexis ConferenceManager, IVCi can integrate a secure audio conferencing system to help you improve business processes and communications while significantly reducing your conferencing costs.

Compared to conferencing bridges from other providers, organizations using ConferenceManager benefit from significantly lower conferencing costs, enhanced security for sensitive corporate information, easy to use collaboration features, more value from PSTN and VOIP network investments, and more effective communication among employees, customers and partners. The ConferenceManager audio conferencing product delivers a feature-rich solution which is easy to use, can be installed securely in your premises, and offers a rapid return on investment.

The Challenges

ConferenceManager significantly reduces the cost of conferencing—up to 80%—when compared to outsourced conferencing solutions because you no longer incur costly per-minute audio usage surcharges or monthly subscription fees.

- ▶ To improve productivity
- ▶ To enhance business processes
- ▶ To foster better communication and collaboration
- ▶ To reduce expenses
- ▶ To strengthen business relationships

The Solution

Conference participants can communicate freely and share sensitive information with trusted external parties with the confidence that their knowledge and documents are protected from unwanted viewing or capture. ConferenceManager makes rich-media conferencing more affordable, practical, and scalable.

- ▶ Ensures universal accessibility and availability
- ▶ Offers complete support for presentations and collaboration
- ▶ Makes conferencing easy to use and manage

The Results

ConferenceManager isn't just about conference calling. It's about helping organizations solve their challenges, work smarter and take full advantage of business opportunities.

- ▶ Build stronger relationships with employees, partners, and customers
- ▶ Reduce travel costs and lost productivity
- ▶ Improve collaboration
- ▶ Make better decisions
- ▶ Respond more quickly to emergency situations
- ▶ Manage time and resources better

IVCi's factory-trained sales and technical staff install and support audio conferencing projects across the country and around the world. IVCi provides clients with one point of contact for audio conferencing sales, installation, service, management and support.

For additional information regarding IVCi audio conferencing solutions, or to speak to a representative, please call IVCi at 800-224-7083 Ext. 155, e-mail us at info@ivci.com or visit us on the web at www.ivci.com.

MEETING TOOLS FOR BUSINESS.
ANYTIME. ANYWHERE.
1-800-224-7083
www.ivci.com